ITEM-18  LMM 25/09/18 - ARTS AND CULTURAL FESTIVALS IN NEWCASTLE

MOTION

That City of Newcastle:

1. Notes that the iconic This Is Not Art (TiNA) Festival returns to Newcastle this Thursday, thanks to the $100,000 grant and continued support from the City of Newcastle;
2. Notes that our Community Strategic Plan 2030 outlines Vibrant, Safe and Active Public Places, with City of Newcastle leading the support, planning and delivery of cultural and community programs, events and live music, as key to our vision of Newcastle as a smart, liveable and sustainable global city;
3. Recognises the growth in requests for support from the City of Newcastle to assist in the delivery of arts and cultural festivals and events throughout Newcastle;
4. Support the facilitation and co-ordination of arts and cultural festivals and events throughout Newcastle, including, but not limited to, the Newcastle Fringe Festival, and the proposed Newcastle City Festival; aimed at supporting such events in line with our strategic vision to foster a prosperous, diverse and resilient economy by facilitating events and festivals that attract visitors and support local economic development (City of Newcastle 2018/19 Budget);
5. Develops a strategic framework to facilitate the partnering of Novocastrian arts and cultural businesses with emerging and existing events throughout Newcastle;
6. Reports back to Council after engagement with current Arts and Cultural Festival organisers, including, but not limited to, Newcastle Fringe, Proposed Newcastle City Festival, TiNA, the Newcastle Writers Festival, Newcastle Comedy Festival, regarding the development of this strategic framework partnership model.

Background:

The City of Newcastle, through our Community Strategic Plan 2030, and successive annual budgets, acknowledges our role as a Provider, Leader, Collaborator and Planner of community and cultural events and live music.

Increasingly, community organisations are looking to the City of Newcastle to provide support for a growing number of arts and cultural festivals in Newcastle.

While the benefits of holding arts and cultural events throughout the city are obvious, a united approach to the strategic implementation of these events is required, as well as a plan to unite our vibrant arts and cultural businesses with planned or existing cultural events.
Event benefits:

The City of Newcastle Events Plan 2016 – 2019, events deliver a range of benefits in the community. These include:

- economic benefit through increased visitation, accommodation and other spending;
- promotion and advertising of the area through traditional and social media, attracting further flow-on visitation;
- social benefit through community participation and engagement;
- exposure to new experiences, skills and knowledge for residents and visitors, and for some, this becomes the inspiration for new sporting or cultural pursuits;
- build and raise cultural awareness;
- build local pride and identity;
- opportunities for local businesses and local entrepreneurs;
- creates employment particularly in the hospitality and retail sectors, along with artists and art providers;
- capacity building and practical experience for volunteers;
- service and infrastructure upgrades
